A Meeting on Building Design for Optimising Health

The space where cattle are housed plays a huge part towards optimal health and production. Sometimes practical modifications can avoid the detrimental effect of poor building design on:

- Production and growth
- Mastitis and Lameness
- Fertility

This meeting is aimed at those having a range of buildings on their farms, new or old, big or small, that house cattle at any time through the year (literally most of you!!).

Tuesday 10th November 2015

Time:

7:30pm for 8pm start

Venue:

Meeting room at Axminster ,
Coombefield Veterinary Hospital

(Hot food and drinks provided)

Please ring or email the farm department to book your place
